

Protect their precious start.

Respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) is a highly contagious virus that can cause serious health complications in premature infants, babies born during RSV season, and young children with chronic health conditions.

RSV can be prevented with immunization during pregnancy or in infants following birth.

Talk with your healthcare provider about RSV immunization.

RSVAWARENESS.CA